INSANE ASYLUM

SCANDAL.

The charges which follow are not the sensational utterances of yellow journalism, but the calm and unmistakable findings of the state legislative committee appointed to visit and report on the condition of the state insane asylum at Chattahoochee.

The report shows a condition of affairs in that institution which constitutes at once the most blighting disgrace which has come upon the state of Florida in all its sixty years of history. A disgrace that will strike deeply and bring the blush of shame to every citizen.

The conditions are solely due to the incompetent administration of Gov. Jennings. He it was who turned out the experienced and humane Trammell and gave over the management of the asylum to one to whom he was under social obligations. He it was who trusted the care of our insane in the hands of an incompetent country doctor, with the result that after four years, our insane asylum has been changed from an institution for the intelligent and kindly treatment of our unfortunate to such a place as is described here by the legislative committee:

"The institution is not a hospital for the insane, but a dumping ground for all sorts of people, where they are maintained after a fashion at an enormous expense to the state. Little children, young men and young women, middle-aged men and women, old, feeble and decrepit men and women, afflicted with all sorts of mental and physical ailments, are dumped into the institution as 'indigent insane,' many of whom are not indigent or insane, and should be at home with parents or relatives, or in the county poorhouses, or in the arms, or free to earn their own living.

"No systematic effort whatever has been made or treatment given for the restoration of the mind. The sick and afflicted have not been given the necessary medicine or other attention or food or medical help for their cure or restoration. Evidence is before the committee that the management has been cruel, negligent and heartless in some instances.
Attendants and nurses have been drunk while on duty, and have been brutal and inhumanly cruel to helpless inmates. In some instances the very atmosphere of the institution has been so infected with vice and immorality to the extent that even immates have begged and pleaded to be released on account of it, and citizens living nearby have felt outraged by it.

"Reports of misappropriation of the state's money and effects have come to the committee. No accurate system of accounts has been kept, and from the observation of the method of purchase and disbursement the committee is forced to the belief that some money and effects did not go to the use and benefit of the institution.

"It is with serious regret that duty compels the committee to maintain and so present that the Board of State Institutions is very largely responsible and should be held for the deplorable and unpardonable evils that have existed in and about the institution—responsible to those poor, helpless, unfortunate inmates who have been caused to suffer the pangs of hunger, the humiliation and pain of keen cuts of the lash, the thud of the fist, the stamp of the foot, the unknown and untold physical suffering and mental anguish caused by the wilful, wanton neglect of the management and attendants.

"While the evidence is not completely clear, that such cruelty and failure of duty caused death, it is sufficiently clear to create suspicion of such being true."

MONEY AND EDUCATION.

John P. Wall, Putnam county's veteran legislator, writes that "the Florida State College [few people know its location] had an appropriation of $55,967.75 two years ago and now wants $77,500; that the seven state colleges are asking the present legislature for appropriations which aggregate $703,500."

Mr. Wall asks: "Can we stand it?"

The people of Florida can stand the expenditure of that amount, and more, provided it is wisely spent.

But there is a growing conviction that we have too many state "colleges" that are not colleges, but merely academies or high schools.

The bill of Rep. Buckman of Duval, which seeks to do away with the majority of them, is in the opinion of many a praiseworthy bill. The News is glad Mr. Wall voted for it.

One well-equipped state university and one well-equipped state normal school, the latter for the training of teachers, is all that the state should support. These should be well sustained.

The real educational need of the state is for better primary schools.
The country boy is not given a fair show. This is especially true of the poor man's boy, who if he would secure a common school education, must go to some one of the state "colleges." Being poor his parents cannot afford this and the boy grows up without sufficient education to fit him for life's battles.

Then there should be longer terms for the country schools. Four and five months in a year is not enough.
Then the teachers should be better paid.

O, there are ways enough to spend the money, and in such manner as the people can stand. All the people need to convince them of their ability is to see results at home—among their own children.

It is doubtful if the average pay of country teachers in Florida exceeds $30 per month, for four months.

What kind of an inducement is that for our young men and women who would become teachers?

Teaching is hard work—hard and wearing. The teacher, man or woman, who has served a long period in the schools is not worth much for any other vocation at the end of that service. And the job, or profession, calls for not only years of preparation, but tact, patience, the highest order of intelligence and that something that has not been named, but is the ability to get along in the face of countless worries and obstacles—on $120 a year.

Modern education in Florida will not progress as it should, or produce the results desired until more attention is paid to the primary education of our children; until there is more justice displayed in dealing with those who do the work and bear the burdens—the teachers and the community.

GIRLS WHO LAUGH.

Most girls spend considerable time trying to find out how to be popular.
It is natural that a girl should seek approval and admiration. Her popularity means a good time, boxes of candy, theaters, dances, flowers, everything that the hearts of the young delight in.

The girl that is popular is the girl who laughs. Not the girl that simples and puckers or giggles, but the girl that laughs and means it. The girl that laughs can have candy and flowers and a good time every day in the week.

Men flock about her. They adore her. She laughs herself straight into the hearts of beaux and admirers and straight into all the good times that a girl can dream of.

She laughs, but she is careful when she laughs. She laughs with her beaux, but never at them. She laughs at what they say when they say it, but never afterwards. She laughs at their jokes, but never about them. She never laughs at anyone's blunders or misfortunes.

She laughs when the beaux give her flowers, she laughs when they give her candy, she laughs when they take her to dances. Why shouldn't she. Her laugh is her fortune. Above all, the girl who knows how to laugh knows when to laugh and never laughs when she should be silent.

She merely goes through life with her laugh ready and into many dark corners does she flash its cheer.
Many a heart she makes glad just by passing. Many a burden she lightens by the music of her voice.

Women forget to worry when they hear the cheerful girl's laugh. Old men are warmed by the sound of it.
Young men listen and follow it, pay court to it, marry it. For it is the laugh that keeps the heart young, the laugh that keeps the face bright.

What man wants a wife that cannot laugh? And the boy following the laugh is looking for a wife. He may not know it, but he is. And he will find her when he finds that cheerful, wholesome, honest, whole-souled, healthy laugh.

What a thunder has become of Guyenet Cal?!

As Mr. Foster has gone north for the summer, and as many would like to know the true inwardness of the Jacksonville charter bill's defeat why not Ask Mr. Barrs.

Now that the legislature has gotten down to the real work whereon the members were called, it is not surprising when an amount of corruption is being brought to light through the unbusiness-like neglect to properly cover of the late "business administration."

The children of Florida are among the mentally forward of earth. According to the reports of the legislative committees our "University" and "colleges" are chock-a-block with "kids" under 15 years of age and instances are cited where boys have actually entered our colleges before abandoning diapers, although being legislators, more diplomatic language was used in explaining the situation.

Jesse E. Burtz the wide-awake city editor of the Gainesville Sun has just completed the work of compiling the names of residents of that city for a city directory. While getting these names Mr. Burtz also made it his business to take a census of the city. The figures given by Mr. Burtz show 2,825 white and 2,429 colored people, a total of 5,254, a gain of 1,621 people since the taking of the U. S. census in 1900. The Sun says "the growth has been steady and is sure to keep up to the same standard for several years to come."

The News would not care to hazard an opinion of the Jacksonville charter bill vetoed by Gov. Broward, but in so far as it deprives the people of a voice in the local government the federal of the measure is to be regretted. The business administration of Jacksonville, or any other city for that matter, should be divided from politics in so far as possible, not because politics is bad per se, but because of the blight brought on by over-cultivation. There are wheels within wheels in politics and none but a past master in the art can understand the relationship of all the cogs.

A subscriber asks: "What daily paper, in your opinion, has the large-est circulation in Florida?" The Florida Times-Union's circulation is probably three times that of any other daily paper in the state. It covers the field. In the city of Jacksonville the Metropolis, owing to its cheapness, probably leads, though the daily Florida Sun's claim that it has the largest circulation among the white people of Jacksonville has never been successfully controverted.

The Jacksonville Metropolis was precipitately previous in pronouncing the obituary of the Daily Florida Sun. Its rashness was a case where the wish was great-grandfather to the thought. Mr. L'Engle has retired from the editorial management of the Sun, a fact that will be generally regretted. There are, however, other editors and it is more than likely one will be found to take the place so ably filled by Mr. L'Engle.
Men may come and men may go, but that the (Daily Florida) "Sun do move," and in the upward direction is now recognized as a business fact and phenomenon by the people of Florida.

WILL IT PROHIBIT?

As our county is now being sworn into literature sent out by the Liquor Bureau, which they do in every county where an election is called, we would call the attention of our readers to some of its features. It is old and old. Its statements and misstatements have been answered time and again. Georgia has repudiated the representation of Atlanta while dry time and again. Mr. Henry Grady who was the best authority in his state said editorially, while Atlanta was prohibition territory:

"Before prohibition, sometimes as many as three families would live in one house. The heads of those families now not spending their money for drink, are each able to rent a house, thus using three instead of one. Working men who formerly spent a great part of their money for liquor, now spend it for food and clothes for their families. The retail grocery men sell more goods and collect their bills better than ever before. Thus, the able to settle more promptly with the wholesale men."

"The perceptible increase has been noticed in the number of people who ride on the street cars. According to coal dealers many people bought coal and wood, and the latter, who had never been known to do so before. Others who had been accustomed to buying two or three tons on time, this last winter bought seven or eight and paid cash for it. A leading proprietor of a millinery store said that he had sold more clothing and hats than he had in the history of his business. Contractors say their men do better work, and on Saturday evenings, when they receive their week's wages, spend the same in buying clothing and other necessary things for their families. Thus they are in better spirits, have more hope, and are not inclined to strike and growl about higher wages."

"Attendance upon the public schools has increased. The Superintendent of Public Instruction said in his report to the Board of Education, made January 1st, 1887:

"During the past year it has become a subject of remark by teachers in the schools and by visitors, that the children were more tidy, were better dressed, were better behaved, and presented a neater appearance than ever before. Less trouble has been experienced in having parents purchase books required by the rules, few children have been withdrawn to aid in supporting the family, the bigger classed children have been fuller, and more children have been promoted to the high schools, both male and female, than ever before in the history of the schools. All these indications point to the increased prosperity of the city, and to the growing interests in the cause of education on the part of the people."

"There has been a marked increase in attendance upon the Sunday schools of the city. This is especially noticeable among the suburban churches. Many children who started to the Sunday-schools, who were not able to attend for want of proper clothing. Attendance upon the different churches is far better.
From fifteen hundred to two thousand people have joined the various churches of the city during the year.
The deterioration in the part of the people to prohibit the liquor traffic, has stimulated a disposition to do away with other evils. The laws against gambling are rigidly enforced. A considerable stock of gamblers' tools gathered together by the police for several years past, were recently used for the purpose of making a large bonfire on one of the unoccupied squares of the city. The city council has refused longer to grant license to bucket shops, thus putting the seal of its condemnation upon the trade in future of all kinds.
"All these reforms have had a decided tendency to diminish crime.
During the present year it was closed out in two days. The chain gang is almost left with nothing but the chains and the balls. The gang party would not be large enough to work the public roads of the county were it not augmented by fresh supplies from the surrounding counties.
The city government is in the hands of our best citizens."

"Our experience has demonstrated to us beyond a doubt that a city of sixty thousand inhabitants can get along and advance at a solid and constant rate without the liquor traffic."

$100 Reward $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one disease that science has been able to cure in all the ages, and that is Catarrh. Catarrh is the only positive cure now known to the medical profession, and is a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and cures the blood, and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby distroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the system a new lease of life, and restoring the system to its normal state.
The proprietors have made much of its cure, and have made it a household word.

An Exquisite Reproduction of a Remarkable Picture

Practically
Given Away.

"The Three Most Beautiful Roses,"
By Paul de Longpre.

At the urgent solicitation of the Woman's Home Companion, Mr. Paul de Longpre, who is the greatest painter of flowers in the world, considered "The Three Most Beautiful Roses," and the painting is without doubt one of the master pieces of this great artist. This magnificent picture is reproduced in all its grandeur on the cover of the Woman's Home Companion for June. Although this cover is an accurate reproduction of a painting worth hundreds of dollars, yet the June number, which has this exquisite cover, may be obtained at any first-class newsstand or direct from the publishers for the trifling sum of seven cents.

Mr. Paul de Longpre is justly styled the "King of Flower Painters." He not only paints roses but every flower that grows, and is the highest authority on flower. His paintings are found in the most select homes.
Some have sold for as much as seven thousand and five hundred dollars.

Artists, art critics and competent judges all agree that the covers of the Woman's Home Companion are a masterpiece of beauty and excellence, art, stories, illustrations and fashion, etc., exceeds all other home and family magazines. It is published by the Crowell Publishing Company, New York City, also Chicago, Ill., at One Dollar a year, and is the favorite in nearly half a million homes, where it is read each and every issue by three million people.
